

Nieuczciwe praktyki wydawnicze

Od pewnego czasu nasila się na świecie zjawisko nieuczciwych praktyk wydawniczych, których celem jest wyciąganie pieniędzy od osób zainteresowanych publikowaniem swoich tekstów za granicą. W związku z koniecznością gromadzenia dorobku naukowego umożliwiającego dalszą karierę naukową i zmianami reguł osiągnięcia kolejnych stopni naukowych (liczba cytowań) polskie środowisko naukowe może być szczególnie narażone na tego typu niebezpieczeństwa. Korzystając z tego, że „Forum Socjologiczne” pełni funkcję informacyjną, zamieszczam przykład, jak wygląda taki proceder.

Call for Papers

Dear Igor Pietraszewski,

This is Sociology Study (ISSN 2159-5526), a professional journal published across the United States by David Publishing Company, USA. We have learned your paper Jazz and the First Polish Subculture: Art as an Act of Resistance During the Stalin Era in the Inaugural Symposium of the Interdisciplinary Network for the Study of Subcultures, Popular Music and Social Change. We are very interested in your paper and would like to publish your paper in Sociology Study. If you have the idea of making our journal a vehicle for your research interests, please send electronic version of your papers or books to us through email attachment in MS word format. All your original and unpublished papers are welcome.

As an American academic publishing group, we hope to keep in touch by email and can publish some papers or books for you and your friends in USA, wishing to become your friends if necessary. We also want to invite some people to be our reviewers or become our editorial board members. If you are interested in our journal, you can send your CV to us. Expect to get your reply soon.

Brief Introduction

Sociology Study is an international, scholarly and peer-reviewed journal (print and online) published monthly by David Publishing Company, USA, which was founded in 2001. The journal serves as a bridge between worldwide scholars and sociological researchers. The journal publishes research articles, reviews, and letters in all areas of sociology. The journal aims to provide the most complete and reliable source of information on recent developments in sociology. Each issue brings you critical perspectives and cogent analyses, serving as an outlet for the best theoretical and research work in the field. The purpose of the journal is to further the understanding of the theory and practice of sociology by publishing articles of interest to practitioners and scholars. The journal publishes peer-reviewed articles, review articles, case studies, exemplar profiles, viewpoints and research results from practitioners of all grades and professions, academics and other specialists on the broad spectrum of sociology. The topics covered in the journal include (but not limit to): culture; criminality, deviance, law and punishment; economic sociology; environment; education; family, gender, and sexuality; health and illness; Internet; knowledge and science; media; military; political sociology; race and ethnic relations; religion; social networks; social psychology; stratification; urban and rural sociology; work and industry; sport sociology. The journal is published in English. The e-journal provides free and open access to all of its content on our website. Accepted papers will immediately appear online followed by printed in hard copy.

Sociology Study is collected and indexed by the Library of U.S Congress, on whose official website (<http://catalog.loc.gov>) an on-line inquiry can be triggered with its publication number ISSN 2159-5526 as key words in "Basic Search" column. Peer Review Policy

Sociology Study is a refereed journal. All research articles in this journal undergo rigorous peer review, based on initial editor screening and anonymised refereeing by at least two anonymous referees.

Editorial Procedures

All papers considered appropriate for this journal are reviewed anonymously by at least two outside reviewers. The review process usually takes two to three weeks. Papers are accepted for publication subject to no substantive, stylistic editing. The editor reserves the right to make any necessary changes in the papers, or request the author to do so, or reject the paper submitted. A copy of the edited paper along with the first proofs will be sent to the author for proofreading. They should be corrected and returned to the editor within seven days. Once the final version of the paper has been accepted, authors are requested not to make further changes to the text.

Submission of Manuscript

All manuscripts submitted will be considered for publication. Manuscripts should be sent on-line or as an email attachment to: sociology@davidpublishing.com; sociology@davidpublishing.org or sociology288@gmail.com.

Oprócz niegramatycznego tytułu treść wiadomości w pierwszej chwili nie wzbudziła mojego niepokoju. Zawsze to miło, że ktoś nas docenia i zwraca się z propozycją publikacji. Zaskakujący wydał mi się krótki termin recenzji. Ponieważ nigdy nie słyszałem o „Sociology Study”, zacząłem pytać znajomych naukowców i szukać informacji w internecie. W efekcie okazało się, że o piśmie nikt nic nie wie, a na stronie internetowej International Sociological Association (<http://www.isa-sociology.org/publ/warning.htm>) można znaleźć ostrzeżenie dotyczące praktyk wydawcy opisywanego miesięcznika.

Okazuje się, że po wysłaniu artykułu do wydawcy możemy spodziewać się niezapowiedzianych żądań finansowych warunkujących umieszczenie go w druku. Deklarowany termin recenzowania tekstów i przysyłania ich autorowi do ewentualnych poprawek każe zastanawiać się, czy ktoś je w ogóle czyta. Na stronie wydawcy (<http://www.davidpublishing.org/>), w zakładkach „About Us” i „Partner” nie ma żadnych wiadomości, chociaż strona na pierwszy rzut oka sprawia profesjonalne wrażenie. Nasilający się problem nieuczciwych praktyk wydawniczych opisany jest szczegółowo na stronie http://weeklytrust.com.ng/?option=com_content&view=article&id=6837:bait-and-switch-publishing-new-face-of-academic-fraud&catid=50:notes-from-atlanta&Itemid=146.
