

Contents

Foreword . . . . .	9
--------------------	---

Substantive criminal law

ANNA MUSZYŃSKA, Remarks on the determinants of the criminal policy pursued by the courts via the example of the implementation of Article 178a § 2 of the Criminal Code and Articles 62–62a of the 2005 law on Counteracting Drug Addiction . . . . .	13
JACEK GIEZEK, KONRAD LIPIŃSKI, New types of usury offenses (Article 304 § 2 and 3 CC) and the ultima ratio principle of criminal law . . . . .	33

Procedural criminal law

MARTA JANOCHA, The Cognitive Interview in Polish criminal proceedings . . .	59
JUSTYNA ŻYLIŃSKA, Right of the detainee to have contact with a lawyer or solicitor and to direct consultation with them as an element of the Right of Defence . . . . .	71

Executive criminal law

MARIA NIELACZNA, COVID-19 and the functioning of the Polish prison system . . . . .	87
KAMILA MROZEK, The lack of technical conditions as an obstacle to commencing the implementation of penal and security measures in the electronic supervision system . . . . .	105
MAGDALENA NIEWIADOMSKA-KRAWCZYK, Non custodial measures in the system of social readaptation . . . . .	115
ADAM KWIECIŃSKI, Sexual offenders register. A tool of additional repression or an element of rational defense for the local community? . . . . .	135

Related sciences

RAFAŁ CIEŚLA, Questioned document examination with the use of alternative and complementary non-destructive methods . . . . .	149
PIOTR JÓŹWIĄK, Psychoactive substances in Poland and Hungary — how to fight them (problem overview)? . . . . .	169
PIOTR HERBOWSKI, Effectiveness of crime scene examination and detectability of crime perpetrators . . . . .	181