

Contents

Foreword (Karolina Kocemba, Michał Stambulski) . . . . .	9
FILIP RAKOCZY-NAZIMEK, Judicial populism in the application of the law and the right to an impartial court . . . . .	11
AGNIESZKA GÓRKA, Populism and the right of assembly. The example of Poland 2015–2019, including the regulation introducing the cyclical assembly . . . . .	29
ALAN ŻUKOWSKI, Social movements: between democratic difference and populism . . . . .	51
AGNIESZKA KAŃSKA, Conspiracy theories as a populist instrument in the repression of marginalized groups . . . . .	67
ALICJA KONONOWICZ, Populism and the protection of migrant’s rights . . . . .	93
MIKOŁAJ BEDNAREK, The rule of law crisis in Poland and Hungary. A theoretical point of view . . . . .	113
KAROLINA KOCEMBA, MICHAŁ STAMBULSKI, Populism and the politics of human rights . . . .	135
NOTES ON AUTHORS . . . . .	157